Force Regarded by Scientists as More Important Than the Blood. The blood was formerly regarded us

The blood was formerly regarded us the life giving principls and to its condition was attributed all that there was of health or illness. Now, physiologists know that nerve force and vitality are the same, and that the constitution, good or bad, depends upon nerve power. Nerve force controls all motion, sensation, digestion and untrition. An abundance of this subtle energy means health and vigor; a lack of it causes general debility, nervous prostration, premature decline, disease and death.

Nerve force is chiefly generated in the brain, and therefore in the treatment of all lingering diseases the condition of the brain centers should be carefully considered and treated. One great of the brain centers should be carefully considered and treated. One great cause of diseases becoming chronic is that physicians overlook the fact that deficiency of nerve power is the chief cause of most diseases. Nervous prostration is due to lack of nerve force.

Dr. Miles' Neuropathic Treatments strengthen and invigorate the nerve centers. They are the result of twenty-five years' careful study, extensive research and remarkable success. They build up the system by increasing nerve force, and have won for Dr. Miles the thanks of thousands of suffers.

STATE HAS EVER HAD AT A FAIR. !

what straggling, as befits the picturesqueness of the view. Yet there is nothing suggestive of a Stringtown-on-the-Pike about this city, for the grounds surrounding each of the houses are beautified with gardens typical of the state represented.
All the states are to be represented at the World's Fair. This means a great deal, a shining triumph for the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, andi. furnishes another flustration of the fact that this Exposition's complete-Dees is the marvel of the age. Fifty-one states, territories and pos-sessions of the United States have taken the steps necessary to partici-pate in the World's Fair on an impor-tant scale. But two states were still utside the fold at the last report, and in each of these was a well defined movement in favor of being represented at the Fair with buildings and ex-hibits. New Hampshire, the old home state, and Delaware are the states referred to. In New Hampshire a fund for participation is being raised pri-vately by patriotic citizens, so that in the event of legislative inaction this monwealth may be represented. The stater and territories are ex-pending over $7,000,000 in their efforts to show off to best advantage at the Exposition. This is a million and hird more than was expended at the Chicago exposition by the states. In addition to this, large cities in many states will have municipal exhibits, the funds for which are not included in these figures. The municipal exhibit idea is entirely novel. From a number of the states there will be prominent county exhibits provided by special appropriation of county funds.

This City of the States presents a picture of surpassing beauty. Nature has done much to aid in the creation of the picture. Never before has any exposition been able to grant such advantageous sites for state buildings. The buildings are situated on a plateau about seventy-five feet higher than the level ground to the north upon which stand the main exhibit palaces. There are hills and ravines here and there, enabling the landscapists to lay out a most delightful pattern of roads and terraces and lawns.

The smallest of the state buildings is that of Arizona, which stands near the southeastern entrance to the grounds. One of the largest Is that of Missouri, from the dome of which it is said that perhaps the very finest view of the Exposition may be enjoyed. This building is a palace in the Italian renaissance architecture, built at a cost of $105,000. Near by is the reproduction of the Cabildo at New Orleans, In which the Louislana Purchase transfer ceremonies took place - Louisiana's state building. Oh'o has a clubhouse of highly orbate design, in the architec-ture of the French renaissance. Illinois is prominent with a not pre-tentious structure, with wide principal and a commanding cupola.

A description of each of testraption of each of the fatter buildings, with any defail, we more than fill a newspaper page. It only possible here to hint at sor of the interesting structures. Calls only for instance, has reproduced in case size the famous old La Rabida Masian. Connecticut presents a replica of the Sigourney residence at Hartford, home

Baby's Awful Suffering from

Could Not Hold Her. She Tore

"When my little girl was six months old, she had eczema. We had used cold creams and all kinds of remedies, but nothing did her any good, in fact, she kept getting worse. I used to wrap her hands up, and when I would dress her, I had to put her on the table for I could not hold her. She would kick and scream, and when she could, she would tear her face and arms almost to pieces. I used four boxes of Cuticura Ointment, two cakes of Cuticura Soap, and gave her the Cuticura Resolvent, and she was cured, and I see no traces of the bumour left. I can truthfully say that they have saved her life, and any one suffering as she did, I should advise them to give Cuticura a fait trial." MRS. G. A. CONRAD, Lisbon, N. H., Feb. 7, 1898.

Mrs. Conrad writes:

"It is with pleasure that I can inform you that the care has been permanent as it is now six years since she was cured, and there has been no return of the disease since, and I have advised a lot of friends to use the Cuticura Remedies in all diseases of the skin."

ANCIENT CHAIRS. The Seats Used by the Egyptians In Early Bistoric Times. Seats more or less resembling stools -that is, seats without backs—were in general use among nations possessing a certain degree of civilization in prehistoric times. What those were like in the early historic period we know from an examination of Egyptian monuments, from a study of Greek vases or from Eutrurian or Roman antiquities that are stored in European museums. The Egyptian delties are seated generally on granite blocks, the backs of which are raised a few inches only, giving a distant resemblance to a chair. That the Egyptians had seats more comfortable for domestic use is ossible, but we have every reason to, suppose, although they possessed a high degree of civilization, that their idea of home comforts was not that of iodern times. The common people probably sat on blocks of stone or wood or sprawled about on the ground with some sort of carpet that also served for a bed.
